Leadership

Exam code: 9BS0

Download PDF

Written by: Steve Vorster
Reviewed by: Jenna Quinn
Updated on 1 September 2025

The distinction between management and leadership

- Leadership is about having a vision, sharing that vision with others and providing direction
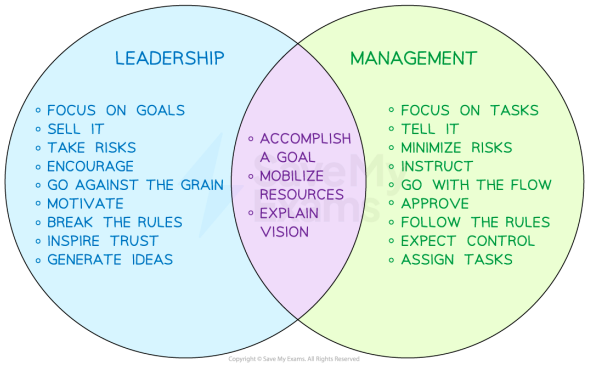
- Management is the day-to-day organisation of the business, its resources and its staffing

Leadership vs management



The different characteristics of leaders and managers

Help me understand

Key differences between leadership and management

- Vision vs. Execution
  - Leadership focuses on creating a vision, setting direction and inspiring others to follow
  - Management focuses on executing plans, organising resources and ensuring tasks are completed on time
- Influence vs. Control
  - Leadership focuses on influencing others to achieve a common goal by inspiring and motivating
  - Management focuses on controlling resources and processes to ensure that objectives are met
- People vs. Processes
  - Leadership focuses on people, their needs and their motivation

Stuck on something?
Ask questions and get help with exactly what you're revising.
Got it

    - Leadership focuses on the long-term vision and strategy
    - Management focuses on short-term goals and targets

- Creativity vs. Efficiency
    - Leadership encourages creativity and innovation
    - Management focuses more on efficiency and productivity

Different types of leadership styles

- Leadership styles are different approaches to leading and managing a team or business
- They reflect the behaviours and attitudes of a leader towards their team members and influence the organisational culture, productivity and performance
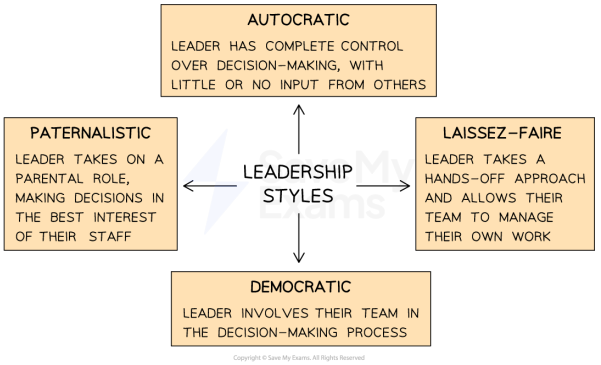
- A successful leader will be able to use a variety of leadership styles, depending on the situation, to achieve the best results for their business

Common leadership styles



Commonly used types of leadership styles include autocratic, democratic, paternalistic and laissez-faire

- The choice of leadership style is influenced by the business's circumstances as well as the nature and size of the business

Autocratic

- This style is more appropriate when there is a need for quick decision-making, such as during a crisis
- It may also be more suitable in a small business in which the owner is the primary decision-maker and has complete control over the business

Paternalistic

- This style is more appropriate when the staff are uneducated or inexperienced strong sense of loyalty from their employees

Democratic

- This style is more appropriate when the business needs to encourage creativity, innovation and employee engagement
- It is also effective in larger firms in which decisions require input from multiple stakeholders or when there is a need to build consensus

Laissez-faire

- This style is more appropriate when the staff are very experienced and require minimal supervision
- It is also effective when the leader wants to build a culture of independence and self-motivation

Teacher only

Test your students on this in just a few clicks

- Create exam-aligned tests
- Tailor format & difficulty
- Quizzes or homework in minutes

Try Test Builder

Test yourself

Flashcards

Was this revision note helpful? Yes No

Previous

Next

Course

Study tools

All topics

© Copyright 2015–2026 Save My Exams Ltd. All Rights Reserved.

Neither IBO nor College Board were involved in the production of, and do not endorse, the resources created by Save My Exams.